

INCREASE
CORPORATE POLITICAL RESPONSIBILITY AND ACCOUNTABILITY

The INCA project, “Increase corporate political responsibility and accountability”, investigates the impact that digital platforms have on European democracies and institutions. The so-called GAFAM (Google, Amazon, Facebook, Apple and Microsoft) are becoming more and more infrastructures for opinion making, labour organization and political debate.

We wish to clarify the way these big-tech platforms exercise lobbying, their impact on democratic institutions and finally, define forms to sustain new models of governance capable to combine the growth of platforms with social inclusion and citizen participation in decision-making processes
